their young women friends. "Fun? Of esurse I'm not having any fun," said a charming young girl yesterday, with mingled pathos and indignation. She is one of the kind that are mostly to be esen at places of amusement during the scaon four nights in a week, each time with a different beau. The latter word is used advisedly. All her men friends are beaux in the genuine sense of the word. They positively vie with each other for the privilege of escorting her to places; and they are cheerfully doing duty as guards right new in the hope of raining favor in her eyes. This is true of at least half a dozen, so great is the popularity of this petite and demure young blouds of the bodievard.

But to resume: 'How could anybody have fun,' she went on, 'with every man of Weddings will occupy both the time and the attention of many persons the coming week. Tuesday is to be an especially tail day in this respect, with a half dozen or more announced to take place then. With many persons rusking plans for immediate departures from the city, and the opening of summer cottages at both lakeside and seashore resorts, there is little prospect for much diversion in a social way; and the coming fortnight affords small hope of any Arrivals are not numerous at Harbor Point as yet, but many improvements are being made. The chief of these is a large casino and theater Sixill feet. This is something that the Point has long needed, the old casino being entirely inadequate for the crowds. The new casino is girded with huge beams, leaving the entire floor space clear for dancing and social entertainment. The stage will be fitted with scenery, drop curtains, and all the accessories of the best city opera-houses. This will make it possible for the leading troupes to play during the summer season.
